GRF to hold seventh presentation on the new Form 990

Bethesda, MD, July 10, 2009 – Due to popular demand, Gelman, Rosenberg & Freedman, CPAs will be presenting another complimentary presentation on September 24, 2009 regarding the new requirements of Federal Form 990, Federal Return of Organization Exempt from Income Tax. This will be the firm's seventh presentation on the new regulations.

The new Form 990, called by some “the biggest thing the IRS has done in the last 20 years,” will significantly increase the transparency of tax-exempt organizations and include much more information on internal governance and executive compensation.

The presentation will be led by GRF Nonprofit Tax Principals Stephen J. Kelin, CPA, JD, and Richard J. Locastro, CPA, JD. They will present information and direct discussion on the new requirements and instructions (which run over 300 pages).

To register for the FREE presentation, please visit www.grfcpa.com/events.html or call Elizabeth Paris, Marketing Associate, at 301-664-8578:

Thursday, September 24, 2009 - Marriott Residence Inn Bethesda, 7335 Wisconsin Avenue, Bethesda, MD, 20814. Metro: Bethesda Station, Red Line
